The Hypno-Hipster

After a successful 15 year career as a stand-up comedian (appearing on such television shows as A&E's An Evening at the Improv and The Dennis Miller Show) James R. Zingelman decided to switch gears (and persona) and do a stage hypnosis act. He studied both stage hypnosis and hypnotherapy with some of the best instructors in the field. James is a certified member of the National Guild of Hypnotists.

Using the alias Rusty Z, James has been putting volunteers to sleep and bringing out their hidden talents on stages across the United States. Rusty Z's mastery of rapid hypnotic inductions and his comedic background, not to mention his groovy-hipster stage presence, put his "hypnosis parties" a cut above the usual stage hypnosis demonstration.

Rusty Z's hilarious Hypno a' Go-Go™ happenings are always in good taste and nobody is ever embarrassed, except maybe the skeptics who didn't "believe" in hypnotism before the show started. In fact, the volunteers on stage usually find that they have had one of their best experiences ever!

Rusty is one of the few bona fide comedians doing a hypnosis show. See what a difference a comic mind can make in a show like this.

From corporate functions to comedy clubs, from fund raisers to colleges, Rusty Z will deliver a shindig to exceed your needs and expectations.
